

CURVE APPEAL

LIGHT WEIGHT

Seeking a timeless look? Call off the search. Let Marjorie, a rustic-meets-refined chandelier from Made Goods, shed some light on things. Each curved, opaque tile in the tiered fixture is made of banana bark set in resin—a natural material with added polish. Although the maximum chain length is forty-two inches, for higher ceilings, additional chain is available upon request. Available at B.D. Jeffries / $2,200 / www.bdjeffries.com

FALL IN LINE

This mid-century modern-inspired Maron floor lamp, capped at both ends with brushed brass, is a sophisticated, streamlined accent for your living room. Nestle it next to a sofa or reading chair for a soft and subtle ambient glow from the LED light bulb within, or admire its sculptural quality when the lights are out. Available through Anthropologie / $498 / www.anthropologie.com

SMOKE SHOW

Hung by itself or in a group, Arteriors Kacee Pendant makes gray feel like anything but neutral. Made of frosted smoke glass, with an antique brass pipe and canopy, it has a mysteriously chic look that can stand out or blend in. Hang a few over your dining room table for a cozy, romantic atmosphere. Available at Modern Lighting Design / $690 / www.modernlightingdesign.com

FRINGE BENEFITS

Tassels are everywhere right now, from earrings to formal gowns—and even stylish homes. Get in on the trend with this tassel sconce from Coleen & Company, made of hand-carved solid wood with a hand-applied glossy lacquer finish. Solid brass hardware and a linen shade pair well with all six color offerings (not to mention the all-gold-leaf option), but if your decor requires something even more special, they'll make one for you in a custom shade. Available through Coleen & Company / Starting at $1,275 / www.coleenandcompany.com

STACK ATTACK

Add an understated, natural touch to your space with earthy lighting like the Phoebe stacked table lamp from designer to the stars, Kelly Wearstler. Mixed materials—like the stacked stone and brushed brass in this lamp—are a Wearstler trademark. At thirty inches tall, it's an attention-grabber, but its eclectic, contemporary styling won't steal the scene. Available through Darnell & Company / to the trade / 118 E Kingston Avenue
