

TAKE CUES FROM BRÂNCUȘI

We were inspired by the patriarch of modern sculpture while curating the collection below. Besides, every Parisian apartment should have a chic sculptural form. They add intrigue—much like the stylish French woman—and just the right amount of eye-catching interest.

When it comes to sculptural pieces, we love local artist GEORGE SELLERS—and so does creative director Rob Dailey, who curates the stylish vignettes at For Home Forty Five Ten. Sellers is one of the artists whose work can be seen displayed in the luxe McKinney Avenue storefront. And for Dailey, his work is a good source of inspiration—especially when it comes to a different era. "I love that George Sellers creates original sculptures," Dailey says. "His pieces remind me of the anatomical studies of the late 19th century. They are of another time and place but with a modern twist and a touch of whimsy."
